

ELLIS Master Pronunciation 3.0™

ELLIS Master Pronunciation improves the speaking and listening skills of English learners at all levels.

Expanding upon the pronunciation tools in each level of the ELLIS Academic 3.0 suite, Master Pronunciation focuses on pronunciation skills for English learners ages 8 to adult.

"ELLIS is an outstanding program that we are using to enhance our ESL/bilingual program. Through the use of technology, the ELLIS applications provide the 'extra' instructors we needed. Our students will now have the additional, individualized drill and practice activities that are impossible to provide in the regular classroom structure."

— DR. SHARON BENDER, PRINCIPAL,
CARL SCHURZ HIGH SCHOOL

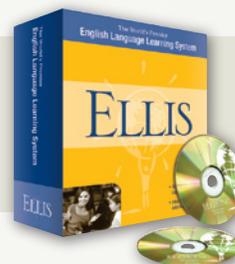

ELLIS Master Pronunciation allows students to hear how words sound and see how sounds are formed. With video models, animated graphics, and native language instruction, students learn where to place the tongue, teeth, and lips to pronounce each sound. Learners can record their voices for comparison to native speakers. Additional features draw direct comparisons among similar sounds.

All-new tutorials in Master Pronunciation focus on a variety of suprasegmental skills such as rhythm, stress, and intonation. Each of these tutorials includes extensive practice opportunities to ensure students master these key aspects of English pronunciation.

Hundreds of minimal pair items allow students to improve their aural discrimination skills, and sound-specific tongue twisters provide more pronunciation practice. These may be randomly presented or selected by language background. This flexibility enables learners to focus on sounds that are problematic for them.
