

ELLIS Management and Reporting System™ 3.0

The enhanced ELLIS Management and Reporting System allows instructors greater ability to track and monitor individuals and groups through the hundreds of hours of ELLIS instruction.

With this extraordinary system, instructors enjoy the same broad yet adaptive environment their students do. The many components of the ELLIS Management and Reporting System complete ELLIS' comprehensive solution to English language training.

Instructor Utilities, a major part of the system, is a vast, Internet-capable (but locally controlled) tool that tracks students' progress from their first day with ELLIS through completion.

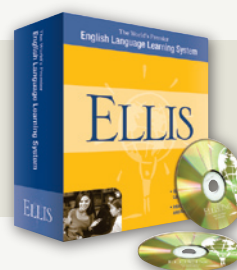

Additional options for teacher control, including new student and instructor reports, the ability to customize curriculum paths, and the power to import records from other databases, allow teachers to gain key insight into students' performance and proficiency gains. Instructor Utilities:

- Monitors student progress
- Tracks lessons completed
- Records quiz and test scores
- Tracks time spent in ELLIS
- Creates class and student reports

The Management and Reporting System streamlines teachers' work by automatically tracking students' progress and maintaining test records. Its flexibility allows instructors to create their own curriculum by adjusting program parameters for different individuals and groups.
